Launch a Fire Linking Campaign

Who else wants their links to spread effortlessly like fire throughout the internet? And without using software or spamming?

A Fire Linking Campaign is a way you can get drop dead easy one-way incoming links and traffic for months.

It amazes me that this secret hasn't leaked all over the place... It has a little in some circles.

Here's the idea. You have to have a WordPress blog or it won't work, BUT you'll get incoming links to any site you want. For instance, your squeeze page.

Let me explain...

Step 1) Find up to 50 small time blogs that you like. You know, blogs that are active but get very little traffic. Maybe they're new bloggers not yet ready to give up.

Step 2) Title a blog post "Fire Linking Campaign" or something similar.

Create a link that you'd like one-way incoming links to.

Now create links for all 50 blogs you picked in Step 1.

Jumble all the links together with "|" or a comma in between each.

Step 3) Go to this HTML converter and copy and paste the slab of 51 links into the form. Click "Convert" and now you can use this new piece of code to display the HTML code for all the links within your blog post.

Step 4) Make sure you have the HTML for the 51 links on page and also the HTML that displays the HTML for the 51 links. Got it?

You want to put both the actual links and the code for copying and pasting the 51 links on the same page.

Step 5) In the post, explain to your reader that if they want easy traffic and incoming links, then take the piece of code, add their link to it, and do a similar type of post.

What's going to happen?

WordPress will inform the blog owners that you're linking to them. They'll create a similar post by adding their blog and more blogs. More blog owners will do the same type of post with your link in it. And so on.

Your links spreads like fire. You find yourself getting a lot of one-way easy links over time.

I can't even begin to tell you how great this works on the web right now!

Again, it's not going to work on the big dog bloggers or internet marketers with blogs. You just want to aim for the low-on-the-totem-pole-bloggers who are desperate for backlinks and traffic.

You'll actually be helping them a lot too so don't feel like you're scamming them in any way.

If you're wanting your website to rank high for a search term, then don't forget to anchor your link with that search term!

Here's an example of a Fire Linking Campaign. I launched it last year and it even reached a lot of major players in a non-IM niche.

It should work even better for Internet Marketing-related blogs and don't forget to slip whatever anchored links you want into the mix!

Hunt Old High PR Posts For Backlinks

- 1) Find a blog in your niche/market that's been around for at least a year. Also works with Digg.com posts.
- 2) Search through the archives and find the oldest, highest ranking PR pages.
- 3) Comment on those pages and don't forget to anchor your link with your main keyword. If you do this 5 times per day, you could build 5 easy PR 3, 4, and 5 backlinks per day.

You'll save a lot of time swapping for high PR backlinks. Plus these are one-way high PR links!

If you can do this 10x per day for a year, then you'll easily get 3,650 backlinks from PR 3, 4, and 5 pages.

However, some blogs have no-follow set, which means search engines won't follow your URLs in your comments.

But... tons are do-follow because bloggers are encouraging comments this way. Here's a great directory of blogs that follow: Do-Follow Resource at Courtney's Internet Marketing School.

Be sure to anchor your link with the keyword you want to rank high for in the search engines!

Submit Your URL to Directories

Website Directories – Free and Paid

Suggested: Select “Free Without Reciprocal” Don't be nice enough to reciprocate links because you want one-way links. Just copy and paste into your web browser. You'll find that's much faster than clicking the links in this PDF.
